

UN
VOLUNTEERS

VIRTUAL COURSE FOR UN VOLUNTEERS

READY TO LEAD

“What kind of future matters to you and what are you going to do about it?”

We are inspiration in action

01 WHAT?

Ready-to-lead supports you in reaching your full potential to be an effective leader in your work at the UN – and beyond! It focuses on leadership skills that help you release the leader within through expertly-guided practice and perfection. Jump-start your career now.

02 WHY?

Are you thinking about how to better lead your work in your assignment as a UN Volunteer?

Would you like to learn more about yourself and develop an improved understanding of leadership style?

Do you want to develop your understanding of how to be an effective leader in your work with the UN and beyond?

If you have answered yes to any of these questions then “Ready To Lead” is a course for you.

This course has been designed specifically for UN Volunteers to build your leadership capabilities and accelerate you on your journey.

We are inspiration in action

O3 HOW?

- Learn more about yourself - explore self-leadership and develop a clearer understanding of your working preferences.
 - As a starting point, you can undertake the 16-personalities test, to understand better why you do things the way you do.
- Build your understanding of different leadership styles and develop clarity around which of these are most effective.
- Develop clarity over what is expected of those that wish to lead across the UN system and beyond.
- Learn from and ask questions of a senior leader within the UN.
- Meet and work closely with some of your colleagues to build your network and develop your thinking.

We are inspiration in action

04 THE TRAINERS

The course is being led by 2 international trainers and leaders in their own right.

Cece Ojany-Bekhor

James Bianco

05 WHEN?

Ready to lead is organized on-demand, and participation is by invitation only. Watch out for our announcement to sign-up for the next session.

We are inspiration in action

