

BARBARA KOEGS ANDERSEN

CAREER COACH AND TRAINER

I provide career coaching for individuals as well as career coaching training for human resources personnel. In addition, I also provide personal effectiveness training to individuals and organisations.

I have a background in the UN, but since 2015 I've been working as an independent consultant. My clients include both UN organisations, the Danish private and public sector and NGO's.

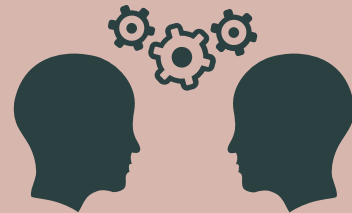

Previously, I worked 18 years with international Human Resources in both UNDP and the Danish private sector. 13 of those years were with UNDP, Copenhagen, where my responsibilities included: team leadership, recruitment, training & development, counselling and coaching.

My career with UNDP also gave me extensive experience working in a multicultural environment, including in Africa and Iraq.

You can listen to my podcast here:

Happy UN Career Podcast

Join the Career Enhancement Academy to enhance your career management skills!

Relevant educational background:

MSc in Human Resource Management and Development, Manchester University
Systemic Coach certification
Master Coach in Personal Effectiveness certification
NLP Master Practitioner certification

Barbara in private:

I was born in 1966. I'm married and live in Denmark. I'm lucky to have a grown son of my own and three "bonus-children". In my spare time I enjoy swimming in the sea, hiking and reading.